Two noted instructors of the state will be present throughout the week. Miss Miriam Noland and Prof. R. P. Green will be ready at any time to answer any question the various teachers may wish to ask them.

The program for the various days will be announced in the Ledger as they are given out by Miss Yancey, the superintendent of the county schools.

RAILWAY STRIKE

May Cause Delay in Annual Conference of Methodist Church at Berea —Church Notes.

Prayer meeting service at the Third Street M. E. Church this evening at 7:30 o'clock led by the pastor. This will be the last prayer meeting before conference and the pastor would be greatly pleased to see a large attendance. Choir will practice at close of prayer meeting.

Next Sunday will be the last Sunday until after conference. The pastor and Official Board urge the members to all attend this the closing service of the conference year. It is hoped that the church may present its banner report to the conference this year. It is up to the membership to assist.

The Conference will meet next Wednesday at Berea. Revs. Literal of this church and A. F. Felts of East Maysville will leave early next week to attend. Whether others attend will depend on the railway situation. If the strike goes into effect it may become necessary to postpone the conference. However nothing official has been given out as yet. Bishop Anderson will be the presiding Bishop. Many changes in pastors is expected at this conference. Maysville will likely have two new pastors as Rev. Felts resigned sometime ago, and it is understood that Rev. Literal expects to change locations this year. The preachers and laymen are all hoping that the strike may be averted and that nothing will interfere in their having a good conference, as the Berea people are making great preparations to entertain this body of churchmen.

PROPOSED LAW IF ENACTED BY SAUTRDAY WILL PREVENT STRIKE

Trainmen's Head Says That Brotherhoods Are Satisfied With 8-Hour Day and Present Wages—Leaders of the Two Factions Mark Time.

CONGRESS SUSPENDS OTHER BUSINESS TO CONSIDER RAILROAD SITUATION—OFFICIALS HOPEFUL

Railroads in All Sections of Country Prepare to Meet With a Walk-Out.

Washington, August 30—All the railroad brotherhood heads were obviously pleased tonight after a careful study of the proposed bill to fix an eight hour work day for trainmen engaged in the interstate commerce at present wages and for an investigation of results by a Commission. W. C. Lee, head of the Trainmen's Brotherhood, made the unequivocal statement that the enactment of such a law by midnight Saturday night would avert the strike.

Washington, August 30—All the influence of the administration was brought to bear today in an effort to persuade the railroad brotherhood leaders to cancel or postpone the order calling a nation-wide strike Monday, while leaders in Congress began paving the way for legislation designed to prevent or stop the threatened industrial catastrophe. Little tangible progress was made in either direction, but nevertheless in official quarters tonight, there still prevails confidence that in one way or another, the walkout would be averted.

To the spokesmen of President Wilson who approached them, all of the brotherhood officials gave the same reply that they had no power to recall the strike order and that only one thing—"a satisfactory settlement"—could keep their men at work after 7 o'clock Monday morning. Further pressure will be brought to bear, and, as a last resort, the President is considering a public appeal to the men themselves to have the order rescinded.

Proposed Enactment Approved

Apparently the legislation which is being counted upon to save the brotherhoods is that part of the President's program which would fix an eight-hour day for railroad employees engaged in operating trains in interstate commerce, and provides for an investigation of its effects by a commission or board. This embodies the principle features of the President's original plan, accepted by the trainmen, and W. G. Lee, head of the trainmen, said tonight that any enactment with a guarantee of the present rates of daily pay would be regarded by the brotherhood leaders as a satisfactory settlement.

Immediately upon its becoming a law, he said, the brotherhood leaders would send out the code measure notifying general chairmen that the strike order should not go into effect. Even some of the Congressional leaders who opposed other features of the program say such a law could be passed.

Congressmen to Hear Factions

The Senate virtually sidetracked the emergency revenue bill for an all-day debate on the crisis, while the Interstate Commerce Committee arranged for hearings beginning at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning when representatives of both sides will be heard. Three hours will be given to each side, and then the committee will begin drafting legislation into shape for presentation to the Senate Saturday.

One dominant thought in the minds of members of Congress generally resulted in the introduction late in the day of a resolution by Senator Blair Lee, of Maryland, calling upon officials of the railroad brotherhoods to postpone execution of the strike order for one week to give Congress sufficient time for intelligent consideration of legislation suggested in President Wilson's message. The resolution was referred to the Interstate Commerce Committee without discussion.

Emergency Legislation First

Opinions in the Senate, after the general debate, concentrated on the urgent necessity for emergency action first, proposals for permanent legislation to be considered thoroughly after danger of an immediate tie-up had been passed. This sentiment was echoed in conference of House leaders.

The Interstate Commerce Committee discussed the proposed legislation late in the day, but postponed action until after tomorrow's hearing. In the meantime word came from the House side that Representative A. J. Davis

FREE CONCERT

Will Be Given by the Blue Grass Concert Band Tonight at the Corner of Market and Second Streets—Excellent Music Promised.

The Blue Grass Concert Band of this city will give a concert on the corner of Market and Second streets tonight at 7:30 o'clock. The concert will be free and no offering of any kind will be taken.

Several months ago the band promised the Maysville merchants that if they could get support in buying instruments and uniforms they would give several concerts on the streets this summer. They have been unable to make good their promise thus far as several of the members have been sick and they felt as if they would like to have the entire band together when the concert were to be given. Tonight's concert will probably be the first of several the band will give during the fall.

Tonight's concert will be as follows:

March, Show Girl.....Will Huff
March, Our Waving Colors....Ray Hall
Waltz, Margaret.....Carton
Serenade, Silly Night.....Will Huff
Overture, Arbitration.....Bernard
March, Sinfonia.....Al Hays

INTERMISSION

March, Booster.....Klein
Serenade, Evening Breezes....Al Hays
Overture, Inspiration.....Haynes
Waltz, Pond Lillies.....Al Hays
Barn Dance, Uncle Remus.....Bean
National Emblem.....Bagley

The success of the band has depended largely upon the efforts of Manager J. H. Randolph and Director Perry. These two men have worked unceasingly to make the band an institution in this city and their efforts have been crowned with much success. The band has made quite a name for itself in the surrounding country and is very much in demand for gatherings where music is desired.

A glance over the program for tonight's concert will show at once the class of music the band plays. They have practiced quite a bit for the exhibition tonight and they feel that the Maysville people will be proud of their band. Come out and hear them.

WILL BRICK EXTENSION

The Second street extension will be bricked this fall according to Mr. Noland, one of the members of the firm of Vastine, Noland and Lowrey. The work on the curb will be begun this week and then the work will be pushed along steadily. He stated that that street might be entirely finished before East Second street would be. The steam shovel in the Sixth Ward will be brought down to do the remainder of the excavating on East Second and the extension.

CANADA AS A COMMERCIAL COMPETITOR

Experts from Canada to the United States during our fiscal year 1916, were 28 per cent greater than for 1915, and 70 per cent greater than during the past fiscal year under the Republican tariff law, 1913. Notwithstanding the fact that Canada's exports to Great Britain during the Canadian fiscal year 1915-16 were more than double those of the two previous fiscal years.

For the 12 months ended last June the Dominion of Canada got into our market for $204,000,000 worth of her products, or at the rate of $17,000,000 monthly. For the same period 1915, we imported from Canada $159,570,000 worth of goods, and for 1913, $120,570,000 worth. The Canadian Department of Trade and Commerce reports that the total exports of Canada to Great Britain for the Canadian fiscal year 1915-16 were valued at $452,000,000, compared with $187,000,000 the year before. In addition to all this, Canada has contributed a generous sum to the expenses of the European war and in the upkeep of her fighting machine now battling for England. Had it not been for the war that would have prevented her from exporting a still greater volume of her products to the United States, with the kind assistance of the Democratic near-free-trade tariff law?

Eight states bordering on the Dominion are to elect United States Senators this fall. The Republican party is confident that it will elect Charles Evans Hughes to the Presidency, and gain control of the House by a handsome majority. One of the first acts looking to commercial preparedness is the revision of that wretched mess of misfit legislation, the Underwood tariff law. That law is an acknowledged failure as a revenue producer. Its sole defenders are the authors of its being. It has presented Canada with a splendid handicap in our domestic market without securing to us one iota of preference in the Canadian market. In 1913 (fiscal year) our exports to Canada totaled $415,000,000—peace products, all of them. In 1915, they had dropped to $300,000,000. In 1916 they rose to $467,000,000, but this was because Canada is leaning heavily on us for her supplies of manufactured war munitions.

It is imperative that the Republicans control the United States Senate next year, if we are to have a tariff revision. The Democratic platform of 1916 unqualifiedly indorses the Underwood-Simmons tariff law, and the only platform promise ever kept by the Democratic party was the promise of the American market to our foreign competitors. Democrats do not keep the promises they make to our own people. This means that the Democratic party, with Woodrow Wilson's ring in its nose, proposes to continue the Underwood tariff law, if the party is continued in power. After-war conditions don't bother them. They are from the South.

But the products which we import from Canada in such volume under the present tariff law, are those in the production of which our own border states are most particularly interested. While these greatly increased importations from Canada have an injurious effect on the whole country, on these border States the effect is especially disastrous. Our farmers and stockraisers may not have appreciated this during the past two years because the abnormal demand of Europe for their products, and the consequent high prices they have received, have distracted their attention from the real state of affairs. But the lumbermen are thoroughly alive to the situation. We cannot go on exporting our foodstuffs to Europe at the present rate, forever. When the war is over, Europe will raise a share of her own food. We may be lucky to get back to our normal trade in foodstuffs with Europe, because the purchasing power of those peoples will be curtailed. But Canada can increase her hold on our market with little effort, under a Democratic law.

Therefore, regardless of consideration of the administration's foreign policies, or the Mexican boggle, or the delightful personality of any particular Democratic candidate for the Senate, it behooves every forward-looking farmer in these eight States to cast his vote for the Senator who stands for the American protective policy, and American First, and that is not a Democrat.

These are the days, forsooth, when the pot will be in a political campaign.

It Always Helps

says Mrs. Sylvania Woods, of Clifton Mills, Ky., in writing of her experience with Cardui, the woman's tonic. She says further: "Before I began to use Cardui, my back and head would hurt so bad, I thought the pain would kill me. I was hardly able to do any of my housework. After taking three bottles of Cardui, I began to feel like a new woman. I soon gained 35 pounds, and now, I do all my housework, as well as run a big water mill."

I wish every suffering woman would give

CARDUI
The Woman's Tonic

a trial. I still use Cardui when I feel a little bad, and it always does me good."

Headache, backache, side ache, nervousness, tired, worn-out feelings, etc., are sure signs of womanly trouble. Signs that you need Cardui, the woman's tonic. You cannot make a mistake in trying Cardui for your trouble. It has been helping weak, ailing women for more than fifty years.

NEW YORK LETTER

(From Our Regular Correspondent)

Hard to Please—When Mr. Hughes was exposing the gross abuse of civil service reform by the Wilson administration, its shameless spoils mongering, etc., the Democratic managers here severely criticized him because his speeches were "destructive and not constructive." Having disposed, for the time being, of one phase of Democratic incompetence, Mr. Hughes has now been discussing the tariff. In one address in California, for instance, he said, "I do propose that we shall have a constructive tariff policy which will foster, not cripple; which will build up, not destroy; which will count American achievement to be honorable and not something to be reduced; which will set the United States ahead, worthy of competing in this economic struggle with any nation on earth." And from the West comes the news that Mr. Hughes tariff speeches are "most enthusiastically received." And yet the Democratic managers are not satisfied. They declared today that Hughes was "talking time-worn tariff twaddle." Reports from Maine indicate that Republican votes are being made there by the discussion of the tariff and of a true Americanism which will make an American proud of his flag anywhere in the world—even in Mexico. And the Democratic managers insist that the Republican speakers are making "spread eagle" speeches. In fact the disgust expressed at Democratic headquarters would fire every Republican speaker, including Mr. Hughes, if they had the firing power.

Republican 42-Centimeters—The Republican campaign managers insist that when Col. Roosevelt lets loose his first campaign speech in Maine, on August 31, the Democrats will feel as the French did the first time a 42-centimeter shell fell in their midst. They declare that if there has been observable some measure of the judicial reserve still clinging to the speeches of Mr. Hughes, there will be no lack of dynamic force about the statements of the former Chief Executive and they confidently predict that from the time Col. Roosevelt goes into action, Dr. Wilson and his Democratic phalanxes will be constantly on the defensive until finally they will wind up in a wild retreat. Definite information regarding Col. Roosevelt's speech, aside from the fact that it will constitute a review of the Wilson administration, is not yet forthcoming but it is intimated that it will deal largely with "How Wilson kept us out of war." Senator Root is also rated a 42-centimeter gun by the Republican managers, as are former President Taft, Senator Lodge and a few others, all of whom are preparing addresses to be delivered when the campaign actually opens up.

Fighting McCombs—There is a good deal of sympathy in New York for William F. McCombs. Mr. McCombs, an active worker long before the nominating convention of 1912, and as national chairman during that campaign, accomplished the election of Woodrow Wilson to the Presidency. Now Mr. McCombs is Democratic candidate for the Senate from New York, and the entire power of the administration is being exerted against him. As is the case with so many others who have helped Woodrow Wilson, McCombs has served his purpose and is now being treated as an outsider. McCombs has refused to bow to the dictatorship of Crown Prince McAdoo, hence his unpopularity. But his friends insist that the opposition to him stands out pre-eminent among the numerous instances of Dr. Wilson's ingratitude.

THE WAY THEY DO THEM IN PARIS

The following notice was clipped from Tuesday's Bourbon News of Paris:

Is it pure cussedness or really do you think you are smart in your efforts to defy the city ordinance which requires you to keep your premises clean?

The Board of Health thinks there is much of the former and none of the latter in you. The purpose of the law is to protect the citizens of the community against the possible ravages of disease or against an epidemic, the origin of which it not known. The germ may lurk in weeds, trash, garbage, bad milk and many other things.

Take this final order from the Board of Health. Cut your weeds, clean out your sidewalks, move every vestige of filth from your premises, and do it at once.

By order of the Board of Health.

A. H. KELLER, Secretary.

The first glove ever worn on the field by a ball player was the innovation, it is said, of a member of the "unconquered Clipper of Illinois" in a game at Rockford. He was a machinist, and had hurt his palm, so inserted a thin sheet of steel in a fingerless glove with a palm of double thickness, therewith doing mighty deeds of valor on and around the third base corner, although his team lost by the score of 76 to 0.

A writer in the Scientific American reports having observed an electric spark at the end of a whip when it gave out a particularly loud snap and suggests that the snap was not made by the lash at all, but that it was the result of the instant concussion of the air, the electric spark being produced by the friction of the currents of air, the same as in a thunderstorm.

Boxelder county, Utah, not many years ago a mere desert, has this season, for seventh time in eight years, won the grand horticultural prize at the Utah State Fair. The word boxelder has not the same significance in New England as in the west, where the tree by that name is one of the commonest of all.

PROPOSED LAW MAY PREVENT A STRIKE

son, chairman of the Commerce Committee, and Majority Leader Kitchin had concluded that the eight-hour day law could be passed through the House. Tentative drafts of measures submitted to the Senate committee and communicated to all parties to the controversy during the day, include the following provisions to be attached to a pending bill which would enlarge the Interstate Commerce Commission:

Establishment of an eight-hour day as the standard for a day's work for railroad employees operating trains in interstate commerce and the appointment by the President of a wage commission of three members to observe the administration and financial effects of institutions of the eight-hour day, the President to submit its recommendations to the Interstate Commerce Commission, which would accept the findings, unless clearly erroneous and adjust rates to insure a fair return on invested capital; wages of employees not to be reduced for a period to be determined, below the present standard day's wage, pending the reports and pro-rated proportions to be paid for service in excess of eight hours; the commission also to study the reports on the problem of compensation for railroad employees.

Amendment to the existing arbitration law, directing the Board of Mediation and Conciliation, if unable to induce parties to submit controversies to arbitration, to refer differences to a board of investigation, pending the decision of which it would be unlawful for employers to cause a lockout or employees to cause a strike; each party to a controversy to name one member of the board of investigation, which would consist of three members.

Empowering the President, whenever railways engaged in interstate commerce or in transportation of the mails shall cease to operate or be seriously interrupted because of a strike, to direct operations of railroads sufficient for military purposes to draft into Federal service all persons necessary and to use the military force of the nation.

Modified Strike Law Urged
Immediately after tentative legislation had been made public general debate was begun in the Senate or the controversy, Senator Cummins, opening the discussion. The Iowa Senators asserted that compulsory arbitration was impracticable and unconstitutional; that any attempt to fix maximum wages by law, although within the power of Congress, was deemed a failure, and that legislation to prevent strikes by force of law would mean a practical prohibition of labor unions. He suggested that a modified or partial restriction of the right to strike in a combined way might make for industrial peace.

While the Senate was deliberating what to do, House leaders were becoming restive over the prospect and the danger of a great industrial civil war. It was practically determined by them that unless some decisive action is taken in the Senate within forty-eight hours the House would undertake initiative action. Otherwise the lower branch proposes to wait on Senate legislation.

Late in the day Majority Leader Kitchin and Representative Adamson conferred. They studied the tentative proposal before the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee and agreed between themselves that the only measure that could be put through the House at this time would be the eight-hour day bill providing for a wage commission. They proposed to make the law effective November 1. Unless the Senate has acted by Friday afternoon their plan is to bring the measure into the House and have it passed under a special rule. Republicans in the House were non-committal on the program. Majority Leader Mann said the matter was of vital importance and that they are patiently awaiting developments.

Help Offered to Brotherhood
Some Representatives particularly active in labor affairs, including Representatives Casey, Pennsylvania; Keating, Colorado; Van Dyke, New York; and Tavenner, Illinois, organized today and tendered their services to the brotherhood representatives in an effort to avert a strike. The group conferred with the chiefs of the brotherhoods and the legislative representatives of those organizations whom they found non-committal. The railway presidents and managers conference committee were in separate session practically all day. The managers discussed the possibility of the strike and what their roads might be able to do if it came. They decided tonight that Elisha Lee, chairman of the committee, and a few others shall remain here for several days, the rest to go home at once. Mr. Lee probably will be the chief spokesman at the Senate hearing tomorrow. The feeling among the presidents tonight had not changed.

"It's all up to Congress and the people now," said one executive tonight. "There is nothing we can do."

The brotherhood heads spent many hours today planning a vigorous fight on the compulsory investigation feature of the President's program, which they will combat for the present to the exclusion of everything else. They declined to say who would wage the fight for them, but it was said on good authority that Senator Cummins, of Iowa, and Senator Lee, of Tennessee, probably would be active in their behalf. No one has been chosen to oppose the investigation plan in the House because the brotherhoods have great confidence that they will defeat it in the Senate and they have a great number of Representatives, it is said, who are anxious to champion their cause in the House.

COMPLETE EMBARGO

Mr. W. W. Wicoff, local agent of the C. & O., this morning received word that the Pennsylvania lines had ordered an embargo on all freight fearing the coming strike. This is one of the largest lines in the United States and the embargo will mean quite a loss of money.

As yet the C. & O. officials have not ordered an embargo. This line will probably not do anything until Saturday morning in order to see more clearly whether or not the strike will come.
